LEADERSHIP POSITIONS AND DUTIESUNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT SAN ANTONIO, SAN ANTONIO, TX

University of Texas at San Antonio is a Hispanic-Serving, urban-serving, research intensive (R1) institution with roughly 35,000 students offering more than 159 degrees across six academic colleges.

COLLEGE FOR HEALTH, COMMUNITY AND POLICY, DEAN (2020-CURRENT)

The College for Health, Community and Policy is the largest college at UTSA with nearly 7,000 students at its inception in 2020. There are eight departments, one program, and five research centers and institutes. There are 188 faculty and 68 staff in the College. The College's departments are Criminology and Criminal Justice, Demography, Kinesiology, Psychology, Public Administration, Public Health, Social Work and Sociology. There is a Nutrition and Dietetics program that reports to the College as well. The centers and institutes are the Center for Community-Based Applied Health Research, the Institute for Demographic, Social and Economic Research, the Institute for Health Disparities, and the Center for Applied Community and Policy Research.

Duties: Lead all strategic planning, undergraduate and graduate program development, collegiate administrative structure and governance, budget ($42M state appropriation and $10M funded research program) and facilities across two campuses, enrollment and student retention, research and outreach programs, professional development, and personnel management.

Accomplishments:

- Spearheaded the launch of the new College, including developing a Business Service Center model of financial management, a College magazine, relevant websites, as well as a website overhaul
- Facilitated a college-wide strategic planning process, including by-laws, faculty review guidelines, a community engagement plan, and a DEI-related strategic plan
- Increased alumni contact and donations significantly, formed a Dean's Advisory Council
- Increased inter-department and community engagement via Dean's Community Lecture Series, Media Club, Research Roundtables, and end of year celebrations, as well as hiring an Associate Dean for Community Engagement and Partnerships
- Facilitated all faculty recruitment (~10/year) and recruited four external Department Chairs, five Associate Deans, six post-doctoral fellows and many strategic hires
- Facilitated the separation of the Kinesiology, Health and Nutrition department into three separate units as well as the combination of the Departments of Demography and Sociology into a single unit
- Facilitated the addition of eight new academic programs: bachelor degrees in Health, Aging and Society, Healthcare Administration, Nutrition and Health, and Social Work, master's degrees in Health, Kinesiology, and Health, Community and Policy, and a doctoral program in Applied Community Research, as well as multiple certificate programs—three more doctoral programs are in the process of being proposed
- Collaborated with the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio to build the collaborative University of Texas School of Public Health at San Antonio

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY, MORGANTOWN WV

While there, West Virginia University was a land-grant, space-grant, research intensive (R1) institution with roughly 30,000 students offering more than 350 degrees across 14 colleges and schools.

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY AND ANTHROPOLOGY, CHAIR (2014-2020)

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology was one of the largest departments in the Eberly College of Arts & Sciences (the largest college) with nearly 1000 majors (criminology, sociology and anthropology) and 30 doctoral students in sociology. There were 30 faculty and 3 staff in the department.

Duties: Curriculum and program development, departmental administrative structure and governance, budget ($2M state appropriation and $1M entrepreneurial) and facilities, enrollment and student retention, research and outreach programs, professional development and personnel management.

Accomplishments:

- Spearheaded the design and implementation of a new doctoral program which accepted 14 students in its first cohort in the fall of 2016 (30+ enrolled 2019-2020)
- Facilitated and completed a department-wide strategic planning process after drafting by-laws and overhauling the promotion and tenure document
- Increased alumni contact and donations significantly (three planned gifts totaling $2.2M and three cash gifts totaling $50,000) via a newly formed Visiting Committee
- Increased intra-department engagement via lecture series and an annual award banquet to celebrate department successes
- Recruited for six expansion positions (five faculty) in first two years as Chair, no tenure stream departures during my tenure, nearly half of faculty promoted in last five years, two opportunity hires
- Facilitated the separation of the Sociology and Anthropology singular major to two distinct majors, implementing changes to writing, capstone and general education requirements in tandem
- Supported and built new online criminology minor to buttress entrepreneurial resources in the department, initial enrollment in 2018-2019 was 85 minors
- Affiliated with multiple Health Science Center research centers for my own research but also to explore and provide funding opportunities for all doctoral students
- Building expansive research infrastructure (e.g., two research centers) to further fund the doctoral program after doubling the number of GTA positions allotted to the department

MISSISSIPPI STATE UNIVERSITY, STARKVILLE MS

Mississippi State University is a land-grant, sea-grant, space-grant, research intensive (R1) institution with roughly 21,000 (then) students offering more than 180 degrees across 12 colleges and schools.

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY

The Department of Sociology is one of the largest departments in the College of Arts & Sciences (the largest college) with three majors (criminology, sociology and social work) with nearly 1,000 majors and 40 doctoral students in sociology. There are nearly 20 faculty and three staff in the department.

HEAD, DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY (2012-2104, INTERIM 2011-2012)

Duties: Departmental administrative structure and governance, budget ($1.5M state appropriation, nearly all personnel) and facilities, curriculum and program development, enrollment and student retention, research and outreach programs, professional development and personnel management.

Accomplishments:

- Recruited five faculty in diverse topical areas to strengthen the doctoral program
- Increased department social media presence to engage students and alumni in department events
- Increased alumni contact via events and newsletter

GRADUATE PROGRAM COORDINATOR (2009-2012)

Duties: Coordinate and implement policy regarding the graduate program, prepare assessment reports, conduct periodic curriculum review/modification, recruit and retain promising applicants and students, model and encourage excellence in scholarship and teaching.

Accomplishments:

- Overhauled curriculum design to be able to provide classes systematically
- Developed and implemented recruitment program to increase high-quality diverse applicants
- Developed and implemented annual review process to guide students in timely completion

MISSISSIPPI CENTER FOR HEALTH WORKFORCE (FOUNDING DIRECTOR, 2008-2012)

Duties: Lead strategic planning efforts to seek funding to increase research in the area of health workforce, using an executive and advisory board, perform administrative duties (personnel supervision, financial and operations management), supervise staff and graduate students in completing funded research, created state-wide network with physician organizations, medical school and licensing board and disseminate research findings to stakeholders.

Accomplishments:

- Created, managed and administered research grants
- Gained insight/experience with research administration
- Supervised 6-12 employees

WOMEN/GENDER STUDIES PROGRAM DIRECTOR (2003-2009)

Duties: Program administration, program development, scheduled course offerings, expanded courses offered by the Women's Studies Program and cross-listed course offerings across multiple colleges and supported instructors and faculty classroom needs and designed marketing materials for the program.

Selected Accomplishments:

- Elevated program from certificate to minor, regularized course offerings
- Doubled the number of affiliated faculty and acquired graduate assistant
- Organized regular programming including lectures from Gloria Steinem and Anita Hill
